Member write-up: Kathleen Jusko

Kathleen Jusko became a member of Warren County ARTS in the early days of the organization. She remembers being invited to join the group by members Peggy Niece and Pamela Dulaff while she was exhibiting at the Allentown Art in the Park show. Almost immediately after joining, she was hooked into having a solo exhibit of her work. Since those early days, Kathleen has held several roles in the group ranging from Refreshments, Member at Large, Secretary and currently Vice President.

Kathleen's favorite mediums are oils and watercolors. Her artistic background is self taught by watching art classes by 17 different artists on Public Television and books.

Kathleen has continued her membership and participation in Warren County ARTS events because she enjoys the nice members, the variety of programs and the good food.

Member write-up: Pat Olds

Pat Olds is a talented artist in many different mediums. Her favorites are oils, pastels, watercolors and Pen & Ink. Pat's background as an artist started very young when she was taught by her dad starting when she was 5 yrs old. She attended Art Center school in Los Angeles for 3 years after which she worked for Norcross and OZ Greeting card companies creating air brush color plates for the greeting card production. Pat has studied watercolor with Ed Whitney in Douglaston Long Island, and Pastels or Oils with Richard Cardiff. Pat would attend Dog, Cat and Horse shows to create animal portraits most weekends in Long Island. After moving to New Jersey to be near where her children lived and worked, Pat joined Warren County ARTS because it was the only art organization near where she lived. Pat says that she likes the shows that we offer which stimulate her to create new pieces. She loves to paint flowers and chickens in watercolor for herself. Animal portrait commissions always seem to be coming in and she always paints two - one for the customer and one for herself to keep. Pat says that Warren County ARTS is the best thing going on locally, and she enjoys the people and fellowship of the group. Pat has held the roles of Historian and Secretary

Member write-up: Carol Southerland

Carol Southerland is another of the original members of Warren County ARTS remembering when the “group” used to meet in someone’s house for the monthly programs. Carol’s favorite mediums are photography and watercolors. Currently her focus has been on wildlife photography with her favorite location being around Merrill Creek Reservoir.

Carol’s favorite subjects are anything that flies or has four legs. Adding to her knowledge about bird behavior, Carol is a member of an real time online Eagle watch group in the Catalina Islands. What attracted Carol to Warren County ARTS initially was that we were the only art group in the area and joining gave her the opportunity to participate with other artists, in addition to the fellowship and opportunity to exhibit her work. Carol has taken numerous classes in watercolor and oils, as well as print making at Hunterdon Arts Center in Clinton. Creating art, for Carol, is to share her joy in what she sees in nature all around her.

Member write-up: Roberta Rose

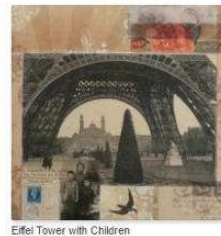

Roberta Rose is one of our more recent members having received a complimentary membership after presenting the September 2018 Program about Photo Transfer techniques. Roberta’s favorite medium is mixed media and photography. Roberta has been an active participant in WCARTS events and intends to continue her membership for 2019. Roberta is currently working on some photo transfers onto

Opera House

fabric and onto flat canvas with encaustics. Roberta’s formal art education was received from Kean University in the arts student league. She has also taken and taught numerous workshops. Like anything it’s an ongoing process. Roberta says her attraction to Warren County ARTS is the space in the Municipal Building. It’s a very professional venue and the exhibits are beautifully displayed. While the building is a nice location with easy access, there is a drawback in that the location is relatively unknown.
